

Cape Bouvard successfully launched the first stage release of Trigg Terrace Homes last week.

The first 15 homes were sold exclusively to buyers who had registered with Cape Bouvard's buyer database.

Marketing & Sales Executive, Lorena Kikiros, said the demand was overwhelming for this type of product in this unique location.

"Stage One sold out in a day and half, and we had a 100% success rate of appointments converting to contracts". "A top price of $620,000 was achieved".

"People are continuing to register for stage two, which will be located on Lynn Street". "These Tri-level homes are going to be something special".

The re-development of the Lynn Street Shopping Centre which is incorporating the relocation and redevelopment of the current shopping centre will revitalise the immediate area providing retail facilities and 24 brand new homes.

Heralding a return of classic architectural style, Trigg Terrace Homes will comprise 24 two storey terrace homes, incorporating two separate living areas, three large bedrooms, two bathrooms (plus powder room) a secure lock-up double garage and front and rear courtyards.
